Life Skill #10 Character

Your character is who you are, when no one is watching.

Even though sometimes it is easier to make poor decisions when no one is watching, we must maintain consistency in our lives and behavior. When good behavior is constant, it becomes a habit. When good behavior becomes a habit, poor choices are easy to ignore. Our character shows who we are, even when it's difficult.

Situation of the Week:

David came home from school, and no one was home. His mom left a note on the counter, saying she would be home in an hour. David knew that he should work on his homework, but he was really tempted to play his video game.

What should David do?

- (A) Play his video game.
- (B) Do his homework
- (C) Wait until his mom gets home to make a decision.

Question of the Week:

Our character shows who _____.

Essay of the Week:

Tell me a time where you made a poor choice, but admitted it to a teacher and/or parent. What was the situation? Did you make that choice again?
